Acrowire Welcomes New Hires with Expertise in SharePoint and Communications

Additions Underscore Continued Company Growth

Charlotte, N.C. (Sept. 10, 2014) – Acrowire, a strategic business and legal technology consulting company, today announced that it has expanded personnel with the additions of Brian Gough as Solutions Architect and Luke Seifert as Communications Manager.

For more than 14 years, Gough has focused on SharePoint development, consultation and instruction. He most recently served at Polypore International as a senior collaboration engineer, where his duties included maintenance of the global SharePoint farm, the development of SharePoint projects and SharePoint consultation. He was named SharePoint Most Valuable Professional in both 2008 and 2009. At Acrowire, he will be responsible for SharePoint consultation and development for legal clients.

Seifert joins Acrowire with more than ten years of recruitment and business development experience. He previously worked at a business development manager for staffing services provider DIVERSANT and territory sales representative for G&K Services. At Acrowire, he will be responsible for client and prospect communications strategies.

"Acrowire has grown tremendously this past year, with significant increases in revenue and new clients and a move to a larger office space to accommodate the company's expanding headcount. The addition of expertise from both Brian and Luke will ensure that the company continues to grow while ensuring an above-board level of client service excellence," commented Ted Theodoropoulos, president of the company.
